ORGANIZATIONAL SKETCH

Title: MS 422 The Association of the Oldest Inhabitants of the District of Columbia Records, 1865- Present

Processors: Elinor Martin, William N. Brown

Date: June 2000 (Updated, 2001 – Present)

The Association of the Oldest Inhabitants of the District of Columbia was founded in 1865 to foster pride in the Nation's Capital, a city whose post-Civil War population was surging with government workers, returning soldiers and masses of refugees, and which continued to be plagued by divided loyalties between North and South. Realizing that something must be done to restore the dignity of the National Capital, a group of thirty-one prominent Washington citizens and businessmen met on December 7, 1865 and formed what became known as The Association of the Oldest Inhabitants of the District of Columbia. The Constitution and By-Laws that were adopted stated: "The objects of this Association are to cement and strengthen the interests and associations arising out of a common residence for a long period in the same locality, to keep alive the reminiscences of the past and the social and paternal communion of the present and the future. . . it will be for the Association to lend its aid in every way to its prosperity and improvement in good order, right government and social intercourse, hospitality, and in courtesy and respect to public functionaries and authorities without regard to sectional or political distinctions." The Constitution emphasized respect for local governmental authority and national patriotism above sectional differences. To the latter end, thirteen Vice Presidents were named – one for each of the original states. The Constitution further provided that a member must have lived in the District forty years, be at least fifty years old, and be of good moral character.

The Association of the Oldest Inhabitants of the District of Columbia was the first civic organization in the District and because of its fine leadership was responsible for many accomplishments and improvements. Of particular importance has been the interest of its members in preserving historic sites. To support civic improvement, the Association embraced the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce (later to merge with the Board of Trade to form the Metropolitan Board of Trade) and became an early member of the Federation of Citizens Associations which was founded in 1910.

In 1909, the District Commissioners, in recognition of the Association's support for the city, passed a resolution allowing the Association to maintain its permanent meeting place in the old Union Engine Company building on 19th Street, N.W. This resolution allowed the Association to share use of the building with the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association, which had been granted use of the building in 1891 and had established a museum to house firefighting equipment and memorabilia. The Association of Oldest Inhabitants had its first meeting at this location on July 11, 1911, and continued to meet there until 1956 when the firehouse was demolished to make way for the construction of an office building. At that time, part of the valuable fire equipment collection was donated to the Smithsonian Institution and part to the Columbia Historical Society (then The Historical Society of Washington, D.C., now the DC History Center)

Over the years, the organization has had many fine leaders, perhaps the most prominent being Theodore Noyes, owner and publisher of the Washington Evening Star. Theodore Noyes was president for thirty-five years and on December 7, 1909, at the 44th anniversary dinner of the Association he summed up the purpose of The Association of the Oldest Inhabitants of the District of Columbia: “This Association is concerned with the men of Washington and primarily with the past. Its main function is reminiscent and preservative. It fosters the loyalty of the Washingtonian to Washington, the self-respect of the Washingtonian, and the affection and pride which he feels in his own and the Nation’s Capital.”

This commitment is most evident in the association’s efforts over the years to return the statue of Governor Alexander Robey Shepherd to downtown. Shepherd, the District’s second and last Territorial Governor, was an AOI member. A statue was commissioned and dedicated in 1909 and placed in front of the District Building where it stood for more than 70 years. During the redevelopment of Pennsylvania Avenue during the late 1970s, the statue was removed and abandoned at the city’s facility at Blue Plains. Department of Public Works employees later righted the statue and moved it to their location on Shepherd Parkway, SW. From the early 1980s until 2005, the AOI led the effort to have the statue returned to a “place of prominence” in the downtown area. Finally, this dream was realized on January 29, 2005 when the statue was placed on the southwest corner of Pennsylvania Avenue and Fourteenth Street, NW on the grounds of the John A. Wilson (District) Building. See Container 1, Folders 116-118 and Container 19, Folder 374 for more information on Governor Shepherd and the efforts to return his statue.

The Association of Oldest Inhabitants continues to thrive, having made minor changes in its membership requirements over the years. Currently, members of the organization must be at least forty years of age and must have lived, worked or operated a business in the District of Columbia for at least 20 years. Descendants or spouses of eligible members may also become members. Associate Memberships (non-voting) are available for those not meeting the above criteria.

Scope and Content: The Association of Oldest Inhabitants Records, 1865- Present is arranged in eighteen series:

SERIES I: HISTORIES is arranged chronologically.

SERIES II: BIOGRAPHIES is arranged alphabetically by last name of subject.

SERIES III: OBITUARIES is generally arranged alphabetically. This series also includes memorial service programs. (See also Series XV: Scrapbooks and Guest books, Container 12, Scrapbook of obituaries.)

SERIES IV: CORRESPONDENCE consists of the general correspondence of the Association, arranged chronologically.

SERIES V: MEMBERSHIP RECORDS consists of membership applications, arranged alphabetically; membership rolls; membership lists; directories; and various other membership records, including certificates and change of address records. (See also Series IX: Financial Records, Sub-series B: Dues Records.)

SERIES VI: ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION, CONSTITUTION AND BYLAWS includes amendments and related correspondence, arranged chronologically.

SERIES VII: MEETING NOTICES AND NEWSLETTERS is arranged chronologically.

SERIES VIII: MEETING MINUTES is arranged in two sub-series:

Sub-series A: General Meeting Minutes is arranged chronologically. These minutes may include Executive Committee Meeting minutes for some years.

Sub-series B: Executive Committee Meeting Minutes is arranged chronologically.

SERIES IX: FINANCIAL RECORDS is arranged in three sub-series:

Sub-series A: Treasurer's Reports is arranged chronologically.

SERIES XV: SCRAPBOOKS AND GUEST BOOKS arranged in chronological order by document type. (See also oversize materials)

SERIES XVI: VETERAN VOLUNTEER FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION RECORDS is arranged in two sub-series:

Sub-series A: Administrative Records is arranged by document type and then chronologically. It consists of various documents of this Association's operation, including membership and dues records, correspondence, committee minutes, newspaper clippings, and reports. Firemen's Association records prior to 1865 predate, but were collected by, the Association of the Oldest Inhabitants.

Sub-series B: Photographs and Ephemera is arranged chronologically by document type.

SERIES XVII: RECORDS OF THE AOI, 2001-PRESENT is arranged by year and then document type: Meeting Announcements/Minutes (including Board of Directors' minutes); Financial Records (including Treasurer's Reports, audits and receipts required to be held for 7 years); Correspondence; and, Clippings, Press Coverage and Photographs. All Incorporation, By-laws and Tax issues since 2000 are filed together at the beginning of the series as are Correspondence, Clippings and Press Coverage related to the return of the Governor Shepherd statue. The minutes of the monthly business luncheons are published in the next monthly newsletter. When no newsletter is published (usually February and September) then the minutes of the previous meeting is provided as a separate document in the Meeting Announcements/Minutes folder.

SERIES XVIII: AUDIO-VISUAL MATERIALS 2000-PRESENT contains audio cassette recordings of monthly business meetings of the Association and guest speakers who made presentations at those meeting and video tapes documenting special events. Data diskettes included in the series contain photographs and documents produced by the Association.

Oversized materials are stored in Containers 12-17.

3/16/2018 Elizabeth Foxwell continued AOI’s commitment to commemorating the centennial of World War I by speaking on, “In Their Own Words: American Women in World War I.” She tailored her talk to emphasize the role of District of Columbia women in the war.

4/20/2018 John DiFerrari kicks off a session of AOI member reminiscences by sharing a series of images on “Bygone Industrial DC” which he put together as a special favor to the AOI. The session captured a number of first-hand memories of DC’s industrial past.

5/18/2018 W. Douglas Fisher presented AOI’s third series focusing on WWI with his talk, “African American Doctors in World War I: The Lives of 104 Volunteers.” Mr. Fisher had with him as a guest and speaker Urbane Bass, the grandson of one of those doctors who, in fact, perished in the war.

6/15/2018 Loretta Neuman Smith discusses “The Battle of Ft. Stevens and the Civil War Circle Fort Parks” providing an up-date on the progress that has been made over the years to preserve the District’s Civil War forts and batteries.

9/21/2018 The District of Columbia’s Archeologist Ruth Troccoli discusses the “District’s Archaeology,” underground/unseen treasures, initiatives such as the excavation of Yarrow Mamout’s property in Georgetown and the need for volunteers to help catalog and accession items the District’s Historic Preservation Office has in storage.

10/19/2018 Historian and National Archives Forensic Investigator Mitchell Yockelson wraps up AOI’s 4 program dedicated to the centennial of World War I with a talk on, “Pershing’s Warriors Came of Age to Defeat the German Army.”

11/16/2018 The Washington Post’s John Kelly intrigues everyone with his talk and research on “DC’s ‘Lost Laws’ and their effect on restaurant goers...”

NOTE: All of the AOI’s 2018 luncheon meetings and lectures are also contained on one DVD labeled “HSW MS422 AOI, Container 19A, 2018 Luncheon Talks”) located with previous years’ cassettes and other media.

1/1/2019 Annual New Year’s Day Brunch – No formal program. Photos of the event are on-line at: <http://www.aoidc.org/upcoming-events.html> and on the annual photo compilation.

2/15/2019 “The White House Chandeliers” with Stewart Stevens and his daughter Lynetta Stevens. Mr. Stevens worked for decades as the chandelier cleaner and window washer in the White House while 7 presidents and their families came and went.

3/15/2019 “Suffragists in Washington, D.C.” with Rebecca Boggs Roberts. Rebecca describes in great detail the effort for a huge march on Washington (reminiscent of January 2017...) that should have gone flawlessly, yet, was ruined by obstructionists and men objecting to their goal of voting rights for women.

4/19/2019 “Lost Farms and Estates of Washington, D.C.” Kim Prothro Williams of the District’s Historic Preservation Office presents a program on some of the lesser-known farms and estates that existed before there was a “District of Columbia” and some that have survived to this day.

5/17/2019 “The Great War in America.” AOI member and author Garrett Peck describes various aspects of the build up to WWI, the forces at work behind the scenes and its aftermath on the American public.

6/21/2019 “Myrtilla Miner’s Normal School for Colored Girls.” Heurich House Executive Director Kimberly Bender presents a program based upon her research into Myrtilla Miner’s first school which she established on the property later occupied by the Heurich House. Her “Normal School” went on to become the District of Columbia Teachers College, then the Federal City College and now the University of the District of Columbia.

9/20/2019 “Bygone D.C. Transportation.” “Capital Streetcars” author and AOI member John DeFerrari kicks off a session of AOI member reminiscences about streetcars, buses, ferries and other modes of transportation that members recall from earlier days.

10/18/2019 “Was There an Underground Railroad in Washington, D.C.?” with Jenny Masur. Jenny worked for seventeen years for the National Park Service as the National Capital Region’s manager for the National Underground Railroad Network to Freedom.

11/15/2019 “The History of Motion Picture Exhibition in the Washington Metropolitan Area” with Robert Headley and Pat Padua presenting a program on the evolution of motion pictures and movie houses in the District...many of which no longer exist today.

NOTE: All of the AOI’s 2019 luncheon meetings and lectures are also contained on one DVD labeled “HSW MS422 AOI, Container 19A, 2019 Luncheon Talks”) located with previous years’ cassettes and other media.

2/21/2020 “Casey Trees: To restore, enhance and protect the tree canopy of the nation’s capital,” with Gabrielle Rovigno, Community Education Coordinator for Casey Trees discussing how Betty Brown Casey came to form the foundation that provides the District of Columbia more than 10,000 tree plantings a year.

3/26/2021 “AOI Membership Zoom Meeting: Emerging from the Pandemic and Moving Forward,” with 75 members participating. This was the first virtual meeting that the organization had ever undertaken. Discussed were the results of the membership survey, issues regarding the future of the organization, its direction and leadership.

9/2/2021 “AOI Membership Zoom Meeting: Election of Officers and Directors and membership approval for AOI’s Legacy Endowment plan. Sixty-two members participated (with another 10 weighing in via email) to overwhelmingly approve a new slate of new and returning Officers and Directors (100% approval) and 96% approved the resolution to create two Donor Directed Funds from AOI's holding to grant $10,000 per year each to the Committee of 100 on the Federal City (for advocacy) and to the D.C. History Center (aka The Historical Society of Washington, D.C.) (for legacy preservation and continue AOI's century and one-half history of advocating for the history of the District of Columbia).
